To Support Articulation:

Interactive Story Telling:

Children can practice target words, engage in imaginative play, and boost language development.

Arts and Craft:

Making speech sounds with pictures of animals or create masks and other creative outlets that support a child's language articulation.

To Support Expressive Language:

- Pretend play
- Wordless books
- Cooking
- Playdough
- Toy animals

These activities are fully engaging and descriptive of child's activity.

To Support Receptive Language:

- Create a grocery shopping activity in your space/kitchen where you label and describe each item with your child
- I-Spy-pointing out things to describe as a game
- Puzzles
- Game of Simon Says

Social Language:

Participate in activities where there is role-playing with instruments or role-play different scenarios, like finding a toy in a story or ordering food at a restaurant.
